LIFE DEPARTMENT.

In a Life Assurance Contract, Security should be the paramount consideration, and next to Security in importance are the terms and conditions on which a Policy of Assurance may be obtained. The conditions of the Alliance have been placed on a footing eminently favourable to the Assured, and the rates of Premium for Policies which do not participate in profits have been materially reduced. Assurances may thus be effected with the Office, free from many restrictions which usually attach to Life Policies and at a minimum cost in premium, while the Security afforded by the large Capital and Reserves of the Company is of the highest character.

Participating Policy-holders receive 80 per cent. of the declared divisible profit from all Life Assurances.

Important concessions have been made to the Assured as regards Foreign Residence and Travel.

Under favourable circumstances Whole-world Policies are granted free of extra premium.

The following are specimens of the Reduced Premiums for Non-participating Policies for the whole of life:—

£	s.	d.
1	12	7	per cent. per annum for life aged 20 next birthday.
2	1	8	30
2	16	4	" " " 40
4	2	0	" " " 50

Premiums for Policies payable during the life-time of the Assured, and for other classes of non-participating Policies, are equally favourable.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

FIRE POLICIES ARE GRANTED ON THE USUAL TERMS.

The Company have Branch Offices at Edinburgh, Dublin, Liverpool, Manchester, Sheffield, Birmingham, Ipswich, Bury St. Edmunds, Newcastle-on-Tyne, and Wrexham.

Life and Fire Proposal Forms, detailed Prospectuses and Statements of Accounts may be had on application to the Head Office of the Company, or to any of the Branch Offices.

The Directors are open to entertain applications for Agencies from parties who are in a position to introduce business of a high class.

Sums Assured, £5,276,000.

Income from Premiums and Interest, £208,759.

Assets, £1,610,717. Expenses of Management, £3,931.

The Reserve retained by the Society in respect of its Liabilities under Policies has been calculated according to the HIGHEST STANDARD, viz., the Tables of the Institute of Actuaries, interest being taken at 3 per cent. and all the loading on premiums reserved.

NINE-TENTHS of the total Profits are divided among the Assured. Considerably more than One-tenth of the Profits is derived from Policies which do not participate in Profits, so that the Assured have larger Bonuses than if they formed a Mutual Insurance Company, and received the whole of the Profits derived from their own Policies.

At an Extraordinary General Meeting held on June 18th, 1880, the sum of £1,239,650 was set aside as the value of the Society's Liabilities under its Assurance and Annuity Contracts, and £219,375 was ordered to be divided as Bonus, leaving a balance of undivided profit of £52,407.

Nine-tenths of the sum divided was allotted among holders of Policies for £2,463,571.

Of the TOTAL ADDITIONS made up to December 31st, 1879, to POLICES of £1,000 each.

In the cases marked * the Bonuses, if surrendered, would be more than sufficient to extinguish all future premiums, and the Policy-holders would still be entitled to share in future profits.

THE BENEVOLENT, OR STRANGERS' FRIEND SOCIETY,

The oldest Institution in existence for Visiting and Relieving the Sick and Distressed Poor at their own habitations in London and the Vicinity.

20, RED LION SQUARE, W.C.

ESTABLISHED A.D. 1785.

PATRON--THE RIGHT HON. LORD EBURY.

Treasurer--J. N. BUDGETT, Esq. | Bankers--Messrs. HOARE, Fleet Street. | Secretary--W. J. CHAMPION, Esq., B.A.

THE PROMINENT FEATURES OF THIS INSTITUTION ARE THE FOLLOWING:--

- 1.--IT IS UNRESTRICTED IN THE EXERCISE OF ITS BENEVOLENCE--It regards neither creed nor country. Whoever are afflicted and in distress share the truly Protestant attention of its Agents. With pecuniary relief it sends Christian sympathy for sorrows which it cannot assuage. It brings an open Bible and points to Divine consolations. It endeavours to oppose the progress of intemperance and vice, and to promote industry, cleanliness, and social and domestic virtue.
- 3.--IT IS NEITHER SECTARIAN NOR PROSELYTING--It never says, "You must come to my Church," or "my Chapel." Relief is never in any case either given or withheld on account of the religious tenets of the sufferer.
- 3.--ITS AGENTS AVOID NO LOCALITY--Cholera, Typhus, Scarlatina, and the many other fearful forms of disease which are found in the damp and gloomy dwellings of the poor, are dared by its self-denying Visitors.
- 4.--ITS OPERATIONS ARE NEVER SUSPENDED--Many of the poor survive the privations of the winter only to fall under the uncertain weather of spring, or decline and die in the heat of summer. Personal injuries, broken limbs, &c., are most frequent in the busiest season. 3,400 cases were relieved during the six summer months of 1890.
- 3.--THE CHARITY IS BY NO MEANS INDISCRIMINATE--In no instance is relief afforded until a special inquiry has verified the particular necessities of the case. "The Society for which I plead," says the Rev. Canon Melville, in his sermon on behalf of this Society, "sees you against being imposed upon. So practised are its agents, so principled are its officers, that you may be certain that whatsoever is given through its instrumentality will reach the most distressed, and at the same time the most deserving."
- 6.--THE ACCOUNTS ARE AUDITED EVERY MONTH, the vouchers examined and compared, and the balance shown and counted.
- Lastly--THE EXPENSES OF MANAGEMENT ARE SMALL.--Not amounting on the average to £300 per annum for the last 30 years, including all charges for the 39 districts, nor would they be materially increased though the operations of the Society were doubled or tripled. "When I consider the extent of your organisation, and the number of agents you employ," says the Rev. Dr. Stevens, "I am astonished at the smallness of your expenses." In many cases, indeed, the visitors add to the relief allotted by the Society, articles of dress, food, furniture, &c., which they either give from their own purses, or obtain from personal friends.

THE STRANGERS' FRIEND SOCIETY HAS RELIEVED ABOVE 500,000 CASES, COMPRISING AT LEAST TWO MILLIONS OF INDIVIDUALS.

SUBSCRIPTIONS, DONATIONS, AND LEGACIES ARE EARNESTLY SOLICITED.

And will be thankfully received by Messrs. Hoare, Bankers, Fleet Street; or by the Secretary, 20, Red Lion Square, W.C.
The Society thankfully receives left off clothing, &c., which often proves exceedingly serviceable to families newly recovered from sickness. Such donations may be directed to the Secretary, at the Office of the Society, 20, Red Lion Square, W.C.

This Society, founded in 1838, seeks to reclaim Young Women from all parts of the Country, who have taken the first false step from the path of virtue. They are cared for in their trouble if expecting to become mothers; and, after suitable training, are placed in service, where needful help is given them in supporting their infants, lest, through want, they should fall again into sin. This is more necessary from the extreme youth of many of the applicants, which prevents their earning sufficient to maintain their infants.

WILKINSON'S GRANITE CONCRETE PAVEMENT,

NOW OF ESTABLISHED REPUTATION.

A BOUT 9,000 yards of extra strong quality are laid in stables and yards of the New Barracks at Knightsbridge, being preferred by the WAR OFFICE AUTHORITIES to Granite Paving Sets. A considerable quantity has been some time in use at the Wharf of the ARMY CLOTHING ESTABLISHMENT, PIMLICO, which has given great satisfaction. The material has also been extensively used for Railway Platforms at Newcastle, Tynemouth, Shields, Hexham, Blaydon, Durham, Ferryhill, East Hartlepool, West Hartlepool, Northallerton, Leeds, Bradford, Edinburgh, Dundee, Leuchars, Berwick, Hawick, Galashiels, Ardrossan, &c. Several thousand yards are specified to be used at extensions at Sunderland, Carlisle, Glasgow, &c. It first was extensively used about twenty-five years ago at the Works of Sir W. G. Armstrong & Co., Newcastle-on-Tyne, and is now well known in England, Ireland, and Scotland. Like all good things, it is being imitated, and a great quantity of inferior work produced. W. B. WILKINSON & CO., Newcastle-on-Tyne, having made this a speciality of their business, are largely patronised by the Nobility, the most eminent London and Provincial Architects and Engineers, and by the War and Post Office Departments of Her Majesty's Government, all the work done being guaranteed. It has been used, and is the best material for Stables, Coach Houses, Stable and Court Yards, Kennels, Barns, Byres, Seed Warehouses, Markets, Mills, Slaughter Houses, Bacon Curing Houses, Weaving Sheds, Cellars for Storing Ale, &c., Maltings, Granaries, Street Footpaths, Dye Houses, Aquariums, Winter Gardens, Conservatories, Churches, Schools, and Play Grounds, Kitchens, Pantries, Larders, Wash Houses and Corridors. In the basement of Dwellings for Kitchens, Passages, Cellars, &c., it is impervious to damp and vermin, an agreeable color, and easily cleaned; used for Warehouses, Mills, &c., it can be laid on Upper Floors, on Wood, or other supports; lessens the risk of damage by fire both from above and below; in Stables it lessens the quantity of straw used for bedding. Architects and Engineers, to insure having perfect Work, are recommended to specify CONCRETE PAVEMENT TO BE LAID BY W. B. WILKINSON & CO., NEWCASTLE-ON-TYNE.

Work guaranteed for 5 years without extra Charge. Quotations given on application to—

PREFACE.

THIS volume, the only illustrated one of its class, furnishes more particulars anent Members of Parliament and Judges than any kindred work while it contains a variety of information that is not elsewhere published.

The section entitled "Changes since the General Election," will be found valuable, as it supplies, in a summarised form, information that is daily required by politicians of every grade, and which information is not elsewhere procurable in a condensed form for ready reference. During the period referred to (10 months) 30 new members have been elected, 1 was seated upon a scrutiny, 1 was disqualified to sit, 7 resigned, 4 accepted office, 3 succeeded to Peerages, 6 died, 1 changed constituency, 2 were raised to the Peerage, 4 received Baronetcies, 9 were sworn of the Privy Council, and 2 have received the honour of Knighthood. Of the 50 petitions presented, 13 were dismissed, 12 withdrawn, and 1 is sub judice, while the remainder were disposed of by adverse decisions against 22 sitting Members, by the disqualification of 1 Member and the resignation of another. The number of seats now vacant is 12, and it may be noted that no less than 53 elections have been held. The nominal party gains are—Conservative 7, Liberal 1, though the actual advantage to the former is only 4, as 2 of the seats gained have since been vacated.

Those versed in heraldic lore may perhaps find among the 1000 engravings of armorial insignia numerous arms of assumption, though the illustrations have been drawn from blazons, or plates, supplied to me by the gentlemen to whose biographies they are appended.

The "Dictionary of Technical Parliamentary Expressions and Practices" is especially useful to those who read political debates with attention, inasmuch as phrases are daily published the significance of which cannot be accurately understood by the uninitiated.

That the work may form a complete Parliamentary Handbook, a list of all Peers and Peeresses, together with particulars of their seats, residences, and clubs, is appended.

The Judicial section is exceptional, inasmuch as this is the only work that gives biographies of all Judges of the Superior Courts of the United Kingdom, and of the Judges of County Courts, and the Recorders of England. I shall, however, be glad to give mature consideration to any suggestion that may be made to me for improving or extending it.

I cordially thank the hundreds of noblemen and gentlemen who courteously returned to me the proofs submitted for their approval, as by their kindly aid I am enabled to submit reliable data.

In 1315 he was one of the barons in the Parliament of Ayr, which made an entail of the crown on King Robert and his heirs. The king subsequently gave him a grant of large estates and also his sister Margery in marriage. His son Colin, in the minority of King David Bruce, with 400 men, took the castle of Dunoon, then in possession of the English; that monarch rewarded him with the hereditary government of the same, and also an annual pension. The 1st Marquess of Argyll took much interest in the reception and coronation of Charles II., and on January 1st, 1650, placed the crown on the king's head at Scoon; but after the Restoration, in 1661, he was accused by the Earl of Middleton of complying with Oliver Cromwell in the death of Charles I., for which he was condemned by Parliament, and beheaded at the Market Cross of Edinburgh, May 27th, 1661. His son Archibald was restored to the honors and estates of his ancestors as Earl of Argyll, but in 1681 he was found guilty of high treason, and sentenced to death. His lordship, however, dexterously escaped from prison in the dress of a lady's page, and went to Holland. James Hamilton, Earl of Arran, who was chosen in 1542 protector to Queen Mary, during her minority, and declared second person of the realm, and in failure of issue in the Queen, her successor to the throne of Scotland. The crest borne by this family is said to have had its origin in the undermentioned circumstance. William de Hambledon, A.D. 1305, having slain one John de Spencer in a duel, fearing that justice would not be done to him in England, he determined to take refuge in Scotland. Accompanied by a servant, he took to flight, but being hotly pursued entered a wood where were two wood-cutters. With these men he and his servant exchanged clothes, but they had scarcely done so before the emissaries of the law were upon them. The servant showing signs of trepidation, was sternly ordered by Sir William to "cut through." The man regaining his composure continued to work, and the officers of justice not having received any satisfactory information left the fugitives. On his return to safety Sir William adopted the above crest in lieu of the one he had previously borne.

Danes invaded Perthshire and routed the Scottish troops. The retreat was, however, prevented by the intrepidity of an old yeoman and his two sons, who, though only armed with yokes, rallied the soldiers and led them to victory. The father was injured in the battle, and on being asked his name, incoherently replied, "Hay? Hay?" by which cognomen he was introduced to the king. The monarch, as a reward, gave the victor in addition to substantial pecuniary gifts and commemorative arms, as much of the royal domain as a falcon, which was then sitting on his hand, should fly over before she alighted. The bird flew six miles, and alighted on an eminence that is even now styled "Falconstone."—This baronet's family is a younger branch of the Earl of Stair.

From scanty earnings he saved sufficient to enter the Glasgow University, where he remained two sessions, supporting himself in the winter by moneys earned from mining in the summer. In 1850 he became a teacher, and continued in that occupation for some years, until the subject of an improved Miners Act occupied his attention. In 1857 he took a leading part in a Conference of Miners that was held at Ashton-under-Lyne; from that time until 1860 he devoted his whole time in advocating a Bill for increasing protection to miners and educating their children. From 1860 to 1862 was engaged in advocating the necessity of an additional shaft being added to each mine. In 1863 he was appointed President of the Miners' National Association, and as such carefully watched over the Bills relating to mines that were introduced into Parliament in 1869-70-71-72. Between the years 1864-7 he paid great attention to the Master and Servant's Act. He has three times visited the United States of America, to compare the position of working men there with those in this country. In Jan. 1873 he was presented with £1,500, which sum had been subscribed for him among the miners throughout the country. Is unmarried. A Liberal. * Several versions are given as to the origin of the peculiar crest borne by the family of the noble house of Derby. One is that the head of the Lathom family, wishing to get rid of an illegitimate child, caused it to be placed in an eagle's nest. The bird, however, instead of killing the infant, fed it, a circumstance which so moved the father that he removed the boy, and brought it up as his heir. Another is, that Sir Thomas Lathom, temp. Edward III., having an only daughter, desired an heir. He had, however, a natural son by one Mary Oskatell. This child he directed to be laid at the foot of a tree where an eagle had built its nest, in which position he pretended that he had discovered it. His wife adopted the infant, who was subsequently known as Sir Oskatell Lathom. Before Sir Thomas died, however, he revealed the fraud, and left the bulk of his property to his daughter, the wife of Sir John Stanley, whose descendants altered the Lathom crest from an eagle reguardant, to what it now is.

* The tradition respecting the origin of the Trevelyan arms is said to have originated in the following circumstance. It is stated that several centuries ago a large tract of land on the Cornish coast between the Land's End and the Seven Stones, but which is now submerged by encroachments of the sea, belonged to an ancestor of the Trevelyan family. The submergence was very sudden; and it is related that the then owner of the land, when upon a riding excursion, found himself cut off from the main land, in a locality far removed from human habitations. Finding his position becoming momentarily more perilous, and night approaching, he determined to attempt to reach the shore with his horse by swimming. The distance was great, but his steed was strong and possessed spirit. So soon as the tide began to flow he started on his perilous journey, and at the very moment when he expected to be lost through the exhaustion of his steed the noble animal touched land, and both he and his rider were saved. In commemoration of his gratitude to the horse, he ordered that the rest of its life should be one of rest and plenty, and he assumed in lieu of his former arms those which his descendants now bear.

EXPLANATION OF SOME TECHNICAL, PARLIAMENTARY EXPRESSIONS AND PRACTICES, WITH BRIEF DESCRIPTIONS OF THE Duties of some of the Higher Officers of State.

ACCEPTANCE OF OFFICE. Under statute 6 Anno, c. 7, holders of offices of profit accepted from the Crown or the Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, are incapacitated from a seat in Parliament, if the office be created since 1705. The acceptor of offices created prior to that year must vacate his seat and submit himself to re-election; but by the Reform Act, 1867, holders of the principal offices of State are no longer required to submit themselves to re-election, upon a transfer from one office to another. The principle established by the Statute of Anne has also been in the following manner modified and extended. The English, Scotch, and Irish judges (except the Master of the Rolls in England), Colonial Governors, officers in the Excise or Customs, and holders of pensions from the Crown, are excluded from Parliament; but ambassadors, foreign ministers, consuls, and holders of diplomatic pensions are not excluded; and five principal and five under Secretaries of State, the Parliamentary Secretary of the Board of Trade, and the Postmaster-General are capable of election.

ADJOURNMENT of its sitting is solely in the power of each House of Parliament; but if both Houses be adjourned for more than fourteen days, the Crown may by proclamation direct them to re-assemble. Adjournment by the House of Commons must be on question put and agreed to, except when there is "no House," and at six o'clock on Wednesdays. Adjournment of debate may be moved by any member who has not spoken to the original question, at any time before the question is fully put, but it cannot be moved in Committee.

ADMIRALTY, FIRST LORD OF THE. Is Chief of the Commissioners, appointed to discharge the office of Lord High Admiral.

ALIENS are incapable of voting for the election of members of Parliament in England and Ireland, neither can they take their seats as members for any constituency. Their right to vote in Scotland is questioned.

AMENDMENT, AN. Is the mode by which the decision of the House on a question may be intercepted, by submitting for its consideration an alternative proposition either wholly or partially opposed to the original question.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL. A law officer of the Crown, whose business is to exhibit informations and prosecute for the Crown in matters criminal, and institute suits in the Exchequer for anything concerning the Queen in inheritance or profit.

AUDITOR. [See Election Auditor.]

AVOIDANCE OF A DECISION, AN. May be effected by proposing an amendment to the original question, or by substitution in its stead of another question, such as the adjournment of the House, or of the debate: "the previous question;" or "that the orders of the day be now read;" or by enforcing the adjournment of the House, owing to the absence of a quorum.

AYES. Members voting in favour of a motion.

BALLOT, THE. [See Election of Members.]

BANKRUPT MEMBERS are by statute immediately incapable of sitting. At the expiration of twelve months after a member has become a bankrupt, his election is void, and a writ will issue for the election of another representative, unless in the meantime the bankruptcy has been annulled.

BILLS, PRIVATE. [See Private Bills.]

BILLS, PUBLIC. In the House of Lords the consent of the House is not required to the introduction of a bill; in the Commons no bill can be brought in unless a motion for leave has received the assent of the House; and proposals for bills relating to religion, trade, taxation, and the grant of public money must be moved in a Committee of the whole House. Leave given, the bill is brought in and read a first time without amendment or debate: though a division may be taken on the question. A day is then appointed for the second reading, previously to which the bill is printed, and each member supplied with a copy. Discussion of the principles of a bill may be held on any of its stages; but the most usual period for this discussion is the second reading. After being read a second time, the bill is referred to a Committee of the whole House, when the details are considered; and the bill is debated clause by clause, and the blanks filled up. The chairman of the committee then reports to the House the changes that the bill has undergone. This he does by stating to the Speaker that "the committee has gone through the bill," and either "made amendments thereunto" or "has directed him to report the same without amendment." If no amendment has been made, the bill is ordered to be read a third time on a future day; but if the committee have altered it, the bill is ordered to be considered as amended. If the amendments are considerable, it is customary to reprint the bill. On the consideration of a bill as amended, no restraint is placed upon the amendments that may be made, or on the addition of new causes of which notice has been given. On the third reading the judgment of the House is expressed upon the entire bill, and only verbal amendments can at this stage be made. The next question is that the "bill do pass," and the last that its title be determined. During the progress of the bill the House may divide on the following questions: 1st, on the first reading; 2nd, on the second reading; 3rd, that it be committed; 4th, that the bill as amended be considered; 5th, that the bill be recommitted; 6th, that it be read a third time; 7th, that it do pass; 8th, the title of the bill. These are exclusive of the divisions that may be taken on amendments proposed to be made to the bill in committee, or on its consideration as amended. After the passing of a bill, the Clerk of the House takes it to the bar of the House of Lords, and desires its concurrence. In the Upper House it passes through similar forms to those of the Commons. If the Lords agree with the Commons in the principle of a measure, but differ on matters of detail, the bill is returned to the Commons, bearing the amendments the Lords propose: these are considered by the Lower House and if disagreed to, the bill is returned back to the Lords with a message assigning reasons for the disagreement. If the difference between the Houses be maintained, a conference (which see) may be held touching the amendments. Acts of amnesty are read only once in each House. Bills that have passed both Houses remain with the Lords, except those of supply, which are sent back to the Commons, to be by the Speaker presented at the bar of the Lords to the Sovereign or to the Royal Commissioners.

BOARD OF TRADE, THE. Considers all matters especially relating to trade and the Colonies. It consists of a President, Vice-President, and several high officers of State, though it is practically managed by a President and Parliamentary Secretary. It has the general superintendence of all matters relating to merchant ships and seamen, and exercises a supervision over railways, the registration of Joint Stock Companies, &c. It also collects and publishes statistics of the revenue, trade, commerce, wealth, population, &c., of the United Kingdom and its dependencies, as well as of foreign countries.

BOROUGH VOTERS. The persons eligible to vote for the election of members of Parliament in boroughs are 1st, the freemen, i.e. those whose names were on the list immediately before the passing of the first Reform Act. None, however, can acquire the right to vote as freemen unless through birth or servitude, and no one can derive it by birth unless his predecessor held it prior to the passing of the Reform Act, or had acquired it by servitude. 2nd. The holders of freeholds and burgage tenements. These are required to be in receipt of rents and profits for a year, unless when the property has come by descent or settlement, and likewise that they should reside for six months in the town or its neighbourhood. 3rd. Householdors, i.e. the occupants, whether as owners or tenants, who have been in sole occupation of premises for a whole year prior to the 31st of July, who during such period have been rated as ordinary occupiers, and who on or before the 20th of July shall have paid all poor-rates up to the preceding 5th day of January. 4th. Lodgers who bona fide occupy rooms the annual value of which unfurnished is not less than £10 a year, and who have resided therein for one year prior to the 31st of July. At contested elections no person can vote for more than two candidates, except in London, where votes may be given for three candidates. [See Burgess Roll and Successive Occupation.]

BRIBERY. Both the giver and the receiver of a bribe can be put into the witness-box and be compelled to answer any questions, however they might criminate themselves. The giver must say to whom he gave, and what he gave, and where he procured the cash. The receiver must say what he received, and from whom he received it. Any person who gives or receives a bribe is disfranchised for life, and his name is to be printed at the foot of every succeeding register of voters for that place in a distinct list, headed "disqualified for bribery, treating, or undue influence." A candidate found to be personally guilty of bribery is incompetent to sit in Parliament for seven years. He is liable to a penalty of £100 to any person who will sue for it. He is liable to an indictment for a misdemeanor, and to be punished with fine and imprisonment. He is incompetent to vote at any Parliamentary or municipal election; he cannot hold any municipal or judicial office; and, if a magistrate, is to be removed from the commission of the peace. The terms "bribery," "treating," and "undue influence" are very clearly defined, and little is left for the ingenuity of venal voters, who will find it difficult to evade the law where a disposition exists to punish them. Candidates and their agents are strictly prohibited from providing cockades or ribbons, or any other mark of distinction, and any person so giving or providing is liable to a penalty of 40s. Any payment made for bands of music, or for flags or banners, will be deemed an illegal payment, the fine of 40s. to go to the person who shall sue for it. Refreshments to voters are also illegal; the words in the act run thus:—"And whereas doubts have also arisen as to whether the giving of refreshments to voters on the day of nomination or day of polling be or be not according to law, and it is expedient that such doubts should be removed: be it declared and enacted that the giving or causing to be given to any voter on the day of nomination or day of polling, on account of such voter having polled or being about to poll, any meat, drink, or entertainment by way of refreshment, or any money or ticket to enable such voter to obtain refreshment, shall be deemed an illegal act, and the person so offending shall forfeit the sum of 40s. for each offence to any person who shall sue for the same, together with full costs of suit; and if any candidate, or any person on his behalf, shall pay any money on account of the conveyance of any voter to the poll, such payment shall be deemed to be an illegal payment within the Corrupt Practices Act, 1864."

BUDGET, THE. Is the financial statement laid annually by the Chancellor of the Exchequer before Parliament of the estimated public income and expenditure of the following year, commencing on the 5th of April. In it he mentions what taxes it is proposed to repeal, to reduce, or augment, and what new ones are to be imposed. In his speech on this occasion the Chancellor reviews the financial condition of the country, comparing the income and expenditure of the previous year with those of preceding years, justifying the changes that are proposed to be made, and estimating their probable effects.

BURGAGE TENANTS. Are those who are inhabitants of boroughs, and who by custom hold their lands or tenements of the Queen, or other person, by a rent certain. By the operation of the Enfranchisement Act these persons are rapidly diminishing.

BURGESS. Is a person whose name appears upon the Burgess Roll of Parliamentary Boroughs. It is also the technical term applied to a borough member.

BURGESS ROLL. Is a list kept in each borough of persons who are entitled to vote for the election of members to Parliament. Each burgess must be a male of full age, not an alien, and not have received parochial relief during the previous twelve months, or alms, or pension, or charitable allowance from the charitable trustees of the borough.

CABINET, THE. Is formed of the highest officers of State, and always includes the First Lord of the Treasury, the Lord Chancellor, the Lord President of the Council, the Lord Privy Seal, the Chancellor of the Exchequer, and the Secretaries of State. It also always includes three, but never more than eight, members, selected from the following functionaries:—Commissioner of Works and Buildings, Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster, First Lord of the Admiralty, President of the Board of Trade, Master of the Mint, Judge-Advocate-General, Postmaster-General, Chief Secretary for Ireland, and President of the Poor Law Board (See Ministry.)

CALL, THE, OF THE HOUSES. When urgent business is anticipated, it has been the practice of both Houses to appoint a day when the names of the members are called over in a prescribed order, and those who are not then present are subject to censure or punishment from the House. This practice, however, has fallen into disuse.

CHAIRMAN OF COMMITTEE OF WAYS AND MEANS. This officer is elected by the House in Committee of Supply on the assembling of a new Parliament. He presides whenever the House is in Committee, and sits at the table in the seat of the Clerk of the House. His vote is never given in Committee, except when, on a division, the numbers are equal. In the absence of the Speaker, he presides as that official's deputy, but is only appointed from day to day. He has also the superintendence of the procedure and practice prescribed for private bills.

CHANCELLOR OF THE DUCHY OF LANCASTER. Is an officer appointed chiefly to determine controversies between the Queen and her tenants of the duchy of Lancaster.

CHANCELLOR OF THE EXCHEQUER, THE. Is the principal Finance Minister of the Crown, and exercises the chief and most responsible control over the expenditure of different branches of the public revenue, the details of which are annually submitted for revision. [See Budget.]

CHANCELLOR, THE LORD. Is created by the will of the Sovereign, by the mere act of delivering the Great Seal into his custody; he holds office during the pleasure of the Crown, but practically resigns office with his party. He is Speaker of the House of Lords, and by virtue of his office a Member of the Privy Council. He issues writs for summoning Parliament, and transacts all business connected with the custody of the Great Seal. He is principal adviser to the Crown in matters of law, President of the Supreme Court of Judicature, and head of the profession of the law. He appoints nearly all the judges of the superior courts, the judges of county courts, and all justices of the peace, and is patron of all Crown livings rated under £20. He is visitor in right of the Crown of all hospitals and colleges of Royal foundation; has the general guardianship of all infants, idiots, and lunatics; and exercises a special jurisdiction in questions relating to charities and trust estates. He ranks above all Dukes not of the blood royal, and next to the Archbishop of Canterbury.

CHILTERN HUNDREDS. These comprise a range of chalky hills traversing the county of Bucks, between Tring, in Hertfordshire, and Goring, in Warwickshire. Their principal summit is Wendover, which is about 900 feet above the level of the sea. The office of "The Stewards of the Chiltern Hundreds" was established for the purpose of suppressing bands of depredators who in former times infested the forests with which the sides of these hills were covered, and it has been retained to enable members of the House of Commons to resign their seats by accepting office under the Crown. The duties and the remuneration of this office are nominal. The appointment is vested in the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

CITY VOTERS. [See Borough Voters.]

CLERK OF THE HOUSE. Is appointed by letters patent. He sits at the upper end of the table, with two assistants. His duty is to record the decisions of the House, i.e. to make minutes of its votes, divisions, and all other proceedings, and to see that they are correctly printed and distributed to the members. He also reads aloud such documents as the House may order to be read, and performs the office of President on the election of a Speaker. The appointment of the Clerks in the service of the House is vested in this officer.

COLONIES, SECRETARY OF STATE FOR THE. Has under his control all matters connected with the government of our extensive colonial possessions.

COMMISSIONERS. The technical name applied to the representatives of Scottish counties and boroughs.

COMMITTALS. The House of Commons has the power to repress any aggression committed upon its privileges, and it can order into custody any person so offending. Such imprisonment, however, expires at the end of the session.

COMMITTEE OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS, THE. Examine the public accounts which show the appropriation of sums granted annually by Parliament to meet the public expenditure. It consists of nine members, who are appointed at the commencement of each session.

COMMITTEE ON PUBLIC PETITIONS, THE. Reports throughout the session a classified list of the petitions presented to the House; and scrutinises them for the purpose of seeing whether or not they are in order.

COMMITTEES. Those of the whole House are generally for the purpose of considering certain resolutions, or the details of a bill; or for financial purposes, such as those of "Supply" or "Ways and Means." Select Committees are for specific purposes, the numbers composing which, as a rule, consist of fifteen members. Presence of strangers is generally permitted by Commons Committees while witnesses are under examination, but not while the Committee deliberates. Members are entitled to be present throughout Committee sittings, unless the House otherwise orders, or unless it be a Secret Committee. The consideration of private bills is referred to Committees consisting of four members. All proceedings of Committees must cease when the Serjeant-at-Arms announces that "the House is going to prayers," and any business transacted after such notice is null and void, unless such Committees be empowered to sit after prayers. When the whole House goes into Committee, the Speaker vacates the chair, the mace is placed under the table, and the Chairman of Ways and Means, or in his absence a member of the House, is called on to preside.

CONFERENCE, A. Is the meeting of a delegated number of Peers and of members of the Commons' House to communicate a written message upon matters in which it is desirable that the two Houses should co-operate. At a "free conference" the subject of the written message may be taken into debate. Conferences are now rarely necessary, as the Houses receive messages transmitted by their clerks; and only one "free conference" has been held since the year 1740.

CONTROVERTED ELECTIONS. The trial of election petitions is now regulated by a new statute which transfers the entire jurisdiction to the Courts of Law. A petition must be signed by all the petitioners, and must be presented within 21 days after the return of the writ, unless it questions the return on an allegation of corrupt practices, &c., in which case it may be presented at any time within 28 days after the day of payment. It will thus be seen that the hitherto not infrequent practice of promising at the election and paying after the time had elapsed for the presentation of a petition is met by permission being given to petition between 28 days after the payment of the bribe, whensoever made. At the time of presentation of a petition, or within three days after, security for £1,000 is to be given by those who present it for payment of all costs, charges, and expenses that may become payable by the petitioner.

COUNT-OUT. If a member moves that "the House be counted," and forty members be not present, the Speaker adjourns the House without question put, till next sitting-day. [See No House.]

COUNTY VOTERS. The persons entitled to vote for the election of members of Parliament in counties are, 1st. Those who were in possession of life freeholds at the time of the passing of the first Reform Act retain the franchise. 2nd. The possessors of land on any title not freehold—such as copyhold or on a leasehold for sixty years—or tenements of freehold, copyhold, or other tenure for his own life or the life of another, or for any lives whatever, or for any estate the clear value of which is not less than £5, and the lessees of property, the original lease of which was not less than 60 years. 3rd. Tenants and occupants of lands or premises, the annual rental of which is not less than £12, and who have been occupiers for not less than a year ending July 31st, and who have on the 20th of that month paid poor-rates up to the previous 5th day of January. No one can hold a county vote on the freehold of a tenement which would give him a right to vote in a town, whether he exercises that right or not; and no one can vote for a county for property other than freehold, if it give the right of voting in a town. And at a contested election no person can vote for more than two candidates. [See Joint Occupiers and Successive Occupation.]

COURTS OF REVISION. [See Registration of Voters and Revising Barrister.]

DAY SITTINGS. [See Morning Sittings.]

DEPUTY-SPEAKER. [See Chairman of Committee on Ways and Means.]

DISFRANCHISE. Is the act of taking away the privilege of the franchise.

DISQUALIFIED TO VOTE. Peers of the Realm and persons whose names do not appear upon the Register of Voters—persons under twenty-one years of age—persons not of sound mind—persons who have been convicted of bribery or perjury—persons connected with the Metropolitan Police Force—those who within the last twelve months have received any parochial relief, or who during the previous six months have been retained or employed for the purposes of any Parliamentary Election for reward.

DISSOLUTION. Is the civil death of the Parliament, and may be effected at pleasure by the Crown, or by length of time (seven years). It puts an end to the representative character of the members, and a Parliament cannot be assembled until after a general election.

DIVISION, A. Is the mode of taking the votes of each House of Parliament. When a division is demanded in the Commons, the Clerk turns a two-minute sand-glass, and the doors of the House are not closed till it has run down. Then, on the Speaker's direction, the doors are locked; he puts the question, the voices are given, and he directs the "ayes" and the "noes" to go into the right and left lobbies. Whilst passing through the lobbies, back into the House, the clerks record the names of those present and the tellers count the numbers. The tellers then return to the House, and their report of the numbers is finally announced by the Speaker.

DOUBLE ELECTION. Members returned at a general election by two constituencies must within seven days after the expiration of the time limited for the presentation of petitions against the returns, elect for which they will serve.

DOUBLE RETURN. Two members returned for one seat are directed by the Speaker to withdraw below the bar as soon as they have taken the oath; nor can they vote till the return has been adjudicated upon.

DROPPED ORDERS OF THE DAY. Are the bills or orders standing upon the order paper which were not reached, owing to an adjournment of the House. They are set down on the paper for the next sitting-day.

ELECTION AUDITOR. Is an officer appointed annually, whose duty it is to take and publish an account of all expenses incurred at elections. Any payment made in respect of an election otherwise than through this official is declared to be illegal. [See Returning Officer's Expenses.]

ELECTION OF MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT. When a new Parliament is to be summoned, the Lord Chancellor receives a written command from the Sovereign in Council to that effect, and directs the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery to issue writs to the returning officer of each electoral district. Elections now are regulated by the Ballot Act, 1872, and the Act is to continue in force until 31st December, 1880. The returning officer of each county must, within two days of the receipt of the writ, give public notice of the time and place of the said election, which must not be later than the ninth nor sooner than the fourth day after such notice. In boroughs, the officer must proceed with the election within four days after the receipt of the writ, having first given two clear days' notice. The show of hands is abolished; and election is now by nomination, in writing. If at the expiration of one hour after the time appointed for the election, no more candidates are nominated than there are vacancies to fill up, the officer declares those candidates elected, and returns their names to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery. But if the candidates nominated exceed the vacancies, the officer adjourns the election, and takes the poll, by ballot papers, according to a prescribed form. The officer at the close of the poll opens the ballot boxes and counts the papers, and returns the names of those who have the majority to the Clerk of the Crown, as elected candidates. In a contested election, polling-stations are provided with compartments to enable voters to mark their votes, screened from observation. Each of these is presided over by officers appointed by the returning officer. The polling is commenced and carried on simultaneously at all the stations. It commences at 8 a.m. and closes at 4 p.m. in country boroughs, at 8 p.m. in the metropolitan boroughs, and at 5 p.m. in counties. In boroughs the polling must take place within three clear days, and in counties within the third and the sixth day after the day fixed for the election. The returning officer is to give public notice "as soon as possible" of the names of the elected candidates, and of the total number of votes given for each candidate. The officer then returns the writ, with the name or names of the person or persons elected endorsed thereon, "To the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery," to whom also all the documents relating to the election are delivered. Immediately after a public notice of election, an elected candidate is considered to be a member of Parliament, but cannot act as a legislator until he has taken the oaths. If any military be stationed in a place where an election is taking place, they are obliged to be withdrawn until the proceedings have closed.

ELECTION PETITIONS. [See Controverted Elections.]

ESCHEATORSHIP OF MUNSTER. Is a nominal office under the Crown, by acceptance of which a member vacates his seat.

ESTATE OF THE REALM. The three estates of the realm are the three branches of the legislature—the Lords spiritual, the Lords temporal, and the Commons. The Sovereign, Lords, and Commons, in their united character, exercise none but legislative functions. The three are the Parliament, but no bill can become law unless all concur in it. In addition, each has separate functions peculiar to itself. In the Sovereign the whole executive authority is vested. The House of Lords exercises judicial authority as a court of dernier resort, and is a tribunal to which great officers of State, impeached by the Lower House, are amenable. The House of Commons is endowed with the sole control of the national expenditure, and with the levy of taxation to provide for that expenditure.

EXECUTIVE. [See Ministry, and also Cabinet.]

EXPULSION OF MEMBERS for grave offences is a power possessed by the House of Commons. It has been exercised from time to time to free Parliament from the presence of discreditable members, such as men found guilty of forgery, perjury, &c. The last occasion, February 1857, was that of James Sadleir, expelled for flight from justice.

FINANCE. The financial concerns of the State devolve upon the Chancellor of the Exchequer.

FOREIGN SECRETARY OF STATE, THE. Has the exclusive charge of the interests of the British Empire and British subjects in foreign countries. He negotiates all treaties, leagues, and alliances with foreign states, either directly with the Foreign Minister at this Court, or through the British Ambassador abroad; and is the official organ and responsible adviser to the Crown in all communications between his Government and foreign powers.

FORMS OF PROCEDURE. The proceedings of the Commons are regulated by standing orders, the permanent bye-laws of the House, by sessional orders renewed annually, and by the custom of Parliament, as embodied in rules and regulations established by usage, or laid down in the journals.

The following is an outline of parliamentary practice :—No motion for the grant of public money may be presently entered upon ; but must be put to the vote on a future day. Notice, as a rule, must be given of every motion that is proposed for discussion, and, except in committee, it must be seconded. There must never be more than one question before the House at the same time. However many amendments may be proposed upon a motion, each one is separately disposed of. If there be a majority for any words standing part of a question to be put to the House, then a vote of yea or nay is taken on the question with these words in it. If the amendments are all lost by negatives to their being part of the question, then the original proposal, whatever it may be, motion or bill, is stripped of all the counter proposals and variations which the debate has called forth, and a vote of yea or nay can be taken on it. No member can thus be driven to vote for what he does not approve ; for after having voted in favor of such amendments as he may propose to the original question, he can vote against it in the end. No motion or bill may be offered upon which a judgment has been expressed during the current session ; nor may a phrase in a question adopted by a vote of either House be afterwards subjected to even a verbal alteration ; the Commons, however, have occasionally found it necessary to rescind a resolution agreed to by the House. A bill that has passed both Houses contains all the sentences and words composing the Act of Parliament to which the Royal Assent is given. When a member speaks, it must be to some question before the House, or to introduce a question. The mover of a substantive motion is permitted a reply at the conclusion of the debate, and those who have spoken to the original question may speak again when an amendment or a new question, such as the adjournment of the debate, has been proposed ; but otherwise no one is entitled to more than one opportunity of speaking on a question, except when the House is in Committee. No member may call another by his name ; if it is desired to call personal attention to him, he must be individualized by the place he represents. Any member may interrupt another by "rising to order," i.e., calling the attention of the chair to the fact that a breach of order was then being committed. It is out of order for a member to refer to debates in the House of Lords. No bill is converted into a law unless it has received three readings—that is, has been at three stated intervals brought under consideration in each House, has passed each House after the three readings, and has received the Royal Assent. All bills which affect taxes or duties to the most trifling amount, can only begin with the Commons. Bills for restitution of honors and in blood always begin in the Peers. A member who moves the adjournment of a debate is by courtesy entitled to speak first when the debate is resumed. But this rule does not apply to the renewal of debate in a Committee of the whole House. For the sake of convenience, certain parties—ministerial, opposition, or otherwise—group themselves on benches which they appropriate to themselves. When two or more members rise simultaneously to address the House, the Speaker or Chairman signifies who should have precedence. It is irregular to refer to the opinions of the Sovereign to influence a decision of the House.

FRANCHISE. In law, is defined as "a Royal privilege, or a branch of the Queen's prerogative subsisting in the hands of a subject." As applied to Parliament the term means the right to vote at an election for a member of Parliament. (See County Voters and also Borough Voters.)

FRANCHISES. [See Borough Voters and County Voters.]

FREEMEN. Are persons who have been admitted to the freedom of a corporate town, or of any other corporate body.

FREEMAN'S ROLL. Is a list of all persons admitted burgesses or freemen, who were entitled to a share or benefit of the lands and public stock of the borough before the passing of the Municipal Corporations Act, 16 and 17 Vict., c. 76.

GOVERNMENT ORDERS. The bills brought in by the Government, and which they are entitled to place at the head of the list of orders of the day on Mondays, Thursdays, and Fridays.

HOME DEPARTMENT, SECRETARY OF STATE FOR. The duties and responsibilities of this high officer comprehend the maintenance of the internal peace of the United Kingdom, the security of the laws, and the general supervision of matters relating to the administration of criminal justice.

HOUSE OF COMMONS. According to the theory of the English constitution, the House of Commons represents the whole population. Although the knights or the members returned by the freeholders of the county are presumed to represent the interest concerned in agriculture ; and burgesses, or members returned by towns, have their attention most directed towards the interests of trade ; yet it is unconstitutional to suppose that members are delegates of any special community. Each member is held to represent the interests of the nation. [See Estate of the Realm.]

INDIA, THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR. Has the control of all matters connected with our Indian Empire.

INSTRUCTION, AN. Empowers a Committee of the whole House to consider matters not otherwise referred to them, and restricts or extends the order of reference to a Select Committee.

JOINT OCCUPIERS. In a county where premises are in the joint occupation of several persons as owners and servants, two persons may be registered in respect to such premises providing the clear value of such premises is in excess of £10 a year.

KNIGHT OF THE SHIRE. The designation by which the representative of a county or shire is distinguished from the representative of a borough, town, or any city or town which is a county in itself. At the conclusion of an election, when the state of the poll is declared by the High Sheriff of the county, that functionary causes each newly-elected member to be girt with a sword, and spurs to be buckled on his feet, in token of his election as a Knight of the Shire.

LA REYNE LE VEULT. The words in which the Queen gives her Royal Assent to public general bills.

LA REYNE REMERCIE SES BONS SUJETS, ACCEPTE LEUR BENEVOLENCE, ET AINSI LE VEULT. The words in which the Queen gives the Royal Assent to a bill of supply.

LA REYNE S'AVISERA. The words in which the Queen might refuse the Royal Assent to a bill.

LEAVE OF ABSENCE from the service of the House is granted to members for a specified time, on reasonable cause assigned.

LES PRELATS, SEIGNEURS, ET COMMUNES, EN CE PRESENT PARLEMENT ASSEMBLES AU NOM DE TOUTS VOUS AUTRES SUJETS REMERCIENT TRES HUMBLEMENT VOSTRE MAJESTE, ET PRIENT A DIEU VOUS DONNER EN SANTE BONNE VIE ET LONGUE. The phrase adopted to express to Her Majesty the gratitude of her subjects for having given her assent to the bills of grace or amnesty that have originated with the Crown.

LETTERS addressed to members at the House of Commons are kept by a clerk from the General Post Office, who attends from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., and delivers them only to the members personally, or to their authorised representatives. All letters or communications directed to the House are opened by the Speaker.

LODGER FRANCHISE. Every person claiming to be placed on the register of voters must make his claim to the overseers of his parish between the 1st and 25th day of August. [See Borough Voters.]

LORD ADVOCATE, THE. Is the principal law officer of the Crown in Scotland. He pleads in all cases that concern the Crown, acts as public prosecutor, and superintends the general administration of criminal justice. He also undertakes in Parliament the charge of all bills that relate to Scotland.

LORD PRIVY SEAL, THE. Has the custody of the Privy Seal, which he must not put to any grant without good warrant under the Monarch's signet. The seal is used to all charters, grants, and pardons signed by the Sovereign before they come to the Great Seal. He is appointed by letters patent, and takes rank next to the Lord President of the Council, and before all Dukes.

MANOR OF EAST HENDRED. } These
MANOR OF HEMPOLME. } are nomi-
MANOR OF NORTHSTEAD. } nal offices in the patronage of the Crown, and by the acceptance of any one of them a member vacates his seat.

MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT are under a constitutional obligation to attend the service of the House; and the House is empowered to punish neglect of this duty by committal to custody. The service on Committees may be enforced in like manner. Having secured a seat at prayers, a member is entitled to retain the same until the rising of the House, but he may not affix his name to any seat before the hour of prayer.

MINISTRY, THE. Is a Committee of the leading members of both Houses of Parliament. It is nominated by the Crown, but consists exclusively of statesmen whose opinions on the pressing questions of the time agree in the main with the majority of the members of the House of Commons. Some eminent party leader, who has the confidence of the majority of the House of Commons, is authorized by the Sovereign to form a Ministry, the members of which he selects from his party, or from those favorable to his policy, he himself being the Prime Minister, and taking commonly the office of First Lord of the Treasury. It is indispensable that those Ministers who are not Peers should be members of Parliament. The Ministry exercises supreme authority, and includes the executive, the legislative, and the judicial powers of the Crown, and in it for the time being the whole of the Royal power is vested. The members are all Privy Councillors, and being more immediately responsible for the conduct of public affairs, their deliberations are always considered confidential, and kept secret, even from their colleagues who are less exalted in office. Indeed, no record whatever is kept of its resolutions or meetings, nor has its existence ever been recognized by Act of Parliament. [See Cabinet.]

MORNING SITTINGS. Whenever the House meets for business before two o'clock p.m. (except on Wednesdays and Saturdays), unless the House shall otherwise order, the Speaker adjourns the sitting at ten minutes to four o'clock until six o'clock, at which time any business undisposed of before four o'clock is taken after the orders of the day; but from two o'clock till seven are the customary hours for morning sittings, when the House is resumed at nine.

MOTION, A. The offer of a substantive proposition for adoption by the House, such as a motion for leave to bring in a bill, or of a resolution expressive of an abstract opinion. [See also Notices of Motion.]

NAMED. For a member to be named by the Speaker, is a signification that in his opinion he has incurred the displeasure of the House.

NOES. Members voting against a motion.

NO HOUSE. There is "No House" if official notice be taken that forty members are not present, except when the Commons are summoned by the Sovereign, or the Royal Commissioners, to attend at the bar of the House of Lords, when any number of members constitutes a House. [See Count-out.]

NOTICES OF MOTION. The notice of an intended motion must as a rule appear on the business paper of the House on the day when it is to be moved. Tuesday evening sittings are appointed for the consideration of notices of motion before the bills set down for that day are considered. The order in which notices of motion stand is determined by a ballot.

OATHS OF MEMBERS. New members may take and subscribe the oath at any time during the sitting of the House before the orders of the day and notices of motion have been entered upon, or after they have been disposed of, but no debate nor business may be interrupted for that purpose.

OCCUPATION FRANCHISE. [See Borough Voters and County Voters.]

ORDER. [See Forms of Procedure.]

ORDERS OF THE DAY, THE. Are the bills set down for consideration on a particular day. [See Government Orders.]

PARLIAMENT. Is the name of the supreme legislature of Great Britain. It was first used in the reign of Henry III.

PARLIAMENTARY AGENT. Is a professional gentleman who acts as Solicitor in promoting private bills.

PERSONS DISQUALIFIED TO SIT AS MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT. Every member of the House of Lords, the Representative Peers of Ireland, all Scottish Peers, whether Representative or otherwise, sheriffs and returning officers for the counties and places for which they act, clergymen of the Established Church, Roman Catholic priests, aliens, the holders of all Government offices created since the year 1705, Government contractors, bankrupts, and persons attainted of treason or felony. [See also Acceptance of Office.]

PETITIONS. Every subject in this country has the right of petitioning the Sovereign, or either House of Parliament, for the redress of grievances. Petitions to Parliament must, however, be drawn up according to prescribed rules; e.g., those to the House of Lords must be addressed, To the Right Honorable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament Assembled; and those to the House of Commons must be directed, To the Honorable the Knights, Citizens, and Burgesses of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland in Parliament Assembled; or, To the Honorable the Commons of the United Kingdom in Parliament Assembled. Electors commence their petition as, The Humble Petition of the Electors of the Parish of ———, sheweth that, &c., and a private individual must set forth his name and occupation thus, — The Humble Petition of Thomas Charles Burd, coal merchant, sheweth that, &c. Following this must be mentioned the grievance for which relief is desired, and the whole must conclude with a specific prayer, as, Wherefore your Petitioners humbly pray that your Honorable House will be pleased to, &c. Here must follow particulars of the special relief that is asked for, the concluding sentence being, And your petitioners, as in duty bound, will ever pray. If the prayer be omitted, the petition is useless, as the House will not attend to a mere statement of grievances. Immediately following the prayer must be written the signatures, one of which, at least, must be written on the same skin of parchment, or sheet of paper, as the petition. All signatures or marks must be original, procuration not being in any case allowed, except in cases of incapacity by sickness, for either a single individual or any body of persons, but the common seal of a corporation is acknowledged as a petition of the whole corporate body. Every petition must be written upon paper or parchment, be free from erasures or interlineation, and written in the English language, or accompanied by a literal translation which the member presenting it certifies to be correct but no letters, affidavits, or other documents will be received. Every petition is rejected unless it be indited in temperate language, and be free from any imputation upon the character or conduct of either House of Parliament, the Courts of Justice, or other constituted authorities. Reference is not allowed to be made to any debates, or to motions that it is supposed will be made; while petitions praying for a grant of public money, or charge upon the revenues of India, or for the remission of taxes or duties, are not received except on the recommendation of the Crown. Every member presenting a petition must affix his name at the beginning thereof, and is presumed to know that the standing regulations respecting petitions have been complied with. No debate is allowed when petitions are laid upon the table, and they stand referred to the Committee on Public Petitions, without any question being put; but if the petition relate to a subject with respect to which the member presenting it has given notice of a motion, and the said petition has not been ordered to be printed by the Committee, such member may, after notice given, move that such petition be printed with the votes. Petitions under two pounds in weight may be forwarded by post, free of charge, to any member of either House, in parcels open at each end, and marked outside "Parliamentary Petitions."

PETITIONS, ELECTION. [See Election Petitions.]

POLLING. [See Election of Members.]

POOR LAW BOARD. This consists of several high officers of State, but is practically managed by a President and Vice-President, who have the control of the work-houses and the guardians of the poor. It annually submits to Parliament a general report of its proceedings.

POSTMASTER-GENERAL, THE. Is a high officer of State, appointed by patent. He makes contracts for the conveyance of the public mails, and sees that they are properly executed. He also receives the moneys arising from the postage of letters, pays the expenses, keeps the accounts of the office, and superintends the whole department.

POT-WALLOPERS. A term applied to voters in certain boroughs, where all who boil (wallop) a pot are entitled to vote.—Encyc Am.

PREMIER, THE. Is the head of Her Majesty's Government, and it is at his immediate recommendation that his colleagues are appointed, and he, with scarcely any exception, dispenses the patronage of the Crown. His official position is that of First Lord of the Treasury.

PREVIOUS QUESTION, THE. Is a mode of attempting to avoid a direct expression of opinion upon a motion. It is effected by proposing, in lieu of the original motion, a motion "that that question be not put." A vote is taken on this, and if negatived the original motion cannot be put to the vote during that sitting.

PRIVATE BILLS. Are those introduced by companies or individuals for the purpose of enabling them to undertake works of utility at their own risk, and for their own benefit, or for procuring naturalization, change of name, &c. Private bills are brought in upon petitions signed by the suitors or their agents. The fees payable for promoting or opposing a private bill are set forth in the "Standing Orders" which are published annually. [See Bills, Public.]

PRIVILEGES OF MEMBERS. Every member is entitled to freedom of speech, to freedom of arrest and distress of goods, and to exemption from service on juries. He can introduce one person daily to the Strangers' Gallery.

PROCEDURE. [See Forms of Procedure.]

PROPERTY QUALIFICATION OF MEMBERS was abolished in 1858.

PROPERTY FRANCHISE. [See County Voters.]

PROROGATION OF PARLIAMENT. Is an interruption of its sitting by Royal authority, and the Crown may, notwithstanding the prorogation, summon it for the despatch of business, by giving six days' notice by proclamation. Every bill and other proceeding, save impeachments, must be renewed de novo after a prorogation. By an act passed in the year 1867, the Crown may prorogue Parliament by proclamation only, and without any subsequent writ or commission, but the act does not apply to prorogation at the close of a Session.

PUBLIC BILLS. [See Bills, Public.]

QUESTION, A. Is a motion moved and seconded, and put by the Speaker to the House as a question for their decision.

QUESTION OF PRIVILEGE, A. May be brought before the House without notice, and takes precedence of motions and orders of the day.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS. Overseers' notices must be served in counties and boroughs on or before the 20th June. Notices of claims on or before July 20th in counties, and Aug. 25th in boroughs. Lists are made up in counties on the 31st July, and notices of objection must be served on or before Aug. 20th in counties, and Aug. 25th in boroughs. Courts of Revision are held in counties between Sept. 20th and Oct. 31st, and in boroughs between Sept. 15th and Oct. 31st.

RESIGNATION OF SEAT. This can only be effected by accepting an office of emolument under the Crown. (See Vacating Seats.)

REPORTING. A gallery is set apart for the exclusive use of newspaper reporters. It is, however, contrary to a Standing Order of the House that strangers should be present, which order any member can, by permission of the House, enforce. Therefore the publication of parliamentary debates remains, theoretically, a breach of privilege.

RETURNING OFFICER'S EXPENSES.

The expenses of the returning officer are to be paid by the candidate (or persons proposing a candidate without his consent) in equal proportions. The expenses allowed by the statute are—Booths at each polling-place in a county, not to exceed £40; booths for each district of a borough, not to exceed £35; deputies of returning officer, each per day £2 2s.; poll-clerks per day £1 1s.

REVISING BARRISTER. Is an officer appointed annually for the purpose of revising the registered list of voters.

ROYAL ASSENT, THE. The act by which the bills that have passed the Houses of Parliament become law, and without which they are null. It constitutes one of the highest prerogatives of the Crown. It is a bona fide exercise of legislative function, though there has not been an instance of its being withheld since the year 1707. The Royal Assent is either given by the Sovereign in person, or by Commissioners appointed for that special purpose and for that single occasion. The Commissioners are usually three or four of the high officers of State. As soon as the Royal Assent has been given, what was before a Bill immediately becomes an Act, having the effect and force of law.

SCOT AND LOT. Parish payments.

When persons were taxed not to the same amount, but according to their ability, they were said to pay "scot and lot."

SELECTION, THE COMMITTEE OF.

Nominates the members on, and arranges the sitting and business of private-bill committees.

SENIOR MEMBER, THE. Is the member returned at the head of the poll, not the member who has served the constituency the longest time.

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS, THE. Is an officer appointed by patent under the Great Seal, attached to the House, who is styled "the Serjeant-at-Arms attending the Speaker of the House of Commons." He is assisted by a deputy and several subordinates. During the sitting of the House he occupies a chair below the bar, and to him is delegated the maintenance of order in the approaches to the House and the adjoining offices. His duties are performed under the directions of the House, communicated to him by the Speaker. He apprehends and retains in custody all persons committed by order of the House.

SESSION. The Session of Parliament continues from the time of its meeting until it is either prorogued or dissolved. The House of Commons limits to one year the duration of the Mutiny Act, and votes the supplies for the public service only by grants for the current year. The Crown is therefore compelled to resort to an annual assemblage of Parliament, which usually takes place early in February. Six days at least, but generally thirty or forty days, previous to the intended meeting, a proclamation is issued by the Crown, commanding the attendance of both Houses for despatch of business, usually at Westminster, but it may be at any place within the United Kingdom. The progress which a measure makes in one Session does not influence its position in the next, as, if not completed previous to the prorogation of Parliament, it must be commenced de novo. The business usually transacted on the first day of every Session is to consider the Speech from the Throne. One Bill, however, always receives a first reading, in order to assert the right of Parliament to protect the interests of the people before considering the subjects contained in the Royal Speech. The usual duration of the Session is from February till August; but no number or length of adjournments destroys its continuity.

SESSIONAL ORDERS are agreed to at the commencement of each Session, and are not intended to continue beyond that period.

SOIT FAIT COMME IL EST DESIRE. The words in which the Royal Assent is given to Private Bills.

SOLICITOR-GENERAL. Is an officer of the Crown who ranks next to the Attorney-General, with whom he is associated in conducting the legal business of the Crown.

SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

Is the representative of its powers, proceedings, and dignity. His chief duties are to present to the Sovereign addresses from the Commons; to conduct inquiries in the name of the House, when counsel, witnesses, or prisoners are at the bar; to reprimand persons who have incurred the displeasure of the House; to issue warrants of committal for breach of privilege; to communicate in writing with any parties, when so instructed by the House; to exercise a general control over the business of the House, both public and private; to express the thanks or approbation of the Commons to distinguished persons; to control and regulate the subordinate officers of the House; to adjourn the House if forty members are not present, and to appoint Tellers on division. He does not speak on debates, except in Committees of the whole House, and does not vote except to give a casting vote when the numbers are equal. He is elected at the commencement of each Parliament, and holds office until a dissolution. He gives state dinners to as many of the House as he can entertain, between the commencement of the Session and the Easter holidays. He receives a salary of £5,000 a year, and has a furnished residence; is a member of the Privy Council, and ranks next after Barons. It is customary for the Speaker, on retiring from office, to be created a peer, and to receive a pension of £2,000 a year, for two lives. When incapacitated from attending to his duties, his place is occupied by the Chairman of Ways and Means. In the conduct of the debates, the Speaker calls on those members to address the House who, in his opinion, are entitled to precedence; he promptly and decisively represses disorder, and gives effect to the rules and regulations of the House. When he rises to enforce a point of order, the House is immediately silent; and his decision, invariably based on precedents of former practice, is, as a rule, accepted without cavil. But although the Speaker is the executive officer by whom the rules of the House are enforced, and though, most deservedly, the utmost reliance is placed upon his judgment, still the ultimate authority, upon all points, is the House itself.

SPEAKER'S GALLERY. Strangers are admitted to the Speaker's Gallery on the personal application of a member. It is customary for the visitor's name to be inscribed some days previously in a book provided for that purpose by the Serjeant-at-Arms. There are two lists supplied daily to the doorkeeper, one being termed "supplementary;" and the persons whose names appear on this have to give precedence to those whose names are on the first list. This Gallery is immediately below that of the "Strangers."

SPEECHES may not be read in the House by members.

STANDING ORDERS. Are for the permanent guidance and order of proceedings. They have been agreed to at various times, and if not repealed endure in force from one Parliament to another. One of these orders has been in force since March 29th, 1707.

STRANGERS, ADMISSION OF. Strangers are not allowed to enter any part of the House appropriated to members, but are admitted to the gallery by producing a written order from a member.

SUCCESSIVE OCCUPATION. Different premises may be occupied in the same borough or county, providing all other requisitions are complied with.

SUPPLY, COMMITTEE OF. A Committee of the whole House, and to it is delegated the power of agreeing to or repudiating the Government resolutions for granting to the Crown the sums necessary for conducting the various branches of the public service. Those that are agreed to are reported to the House, and are either adopted or rejected; if agreed to, the Lords of the Treasury at once issue the funds ordered by the House. At the end of each session the supply resolutions are consolidated in the "Appropriation Bill," which, after it has passed the House of Lords, is carried by the Speaker to the bar of the Upper House to receive the Royal Assent.

TELLER. Is a member appointed by the Speaker when a division takes place, to count the number of members voting for or against a motion. Two are appointed for each side.

"THAT I DO NOW LEAVE THE CHAIR." Is the question put by the Speaker prior to the whole House going into Committee.

"THAT THE ORDERS OF THE DAY BE NOW READ." That the House proceed to further business without a decision taking place on the motion then under discussion.

"THAT THIS BILL BE COMMITTED" The question that is put to the House immediately after the second reading, and which is rarely opposed.

"THAT THIS BILL DO PASS." The question that is put to the House after a bill has been read a third time.

"THIS DAY SIX (OR THREE) MONTHS." The motion that a bill be read a second time upon this day six months, is the ordinary mode of moving its rejection.

TIME OF MEETING. The House meets at a quarter before four o'clock [for exceptions see Morning Sittings], when the Chaplain reads prayers. The Speaker, then seated at the Clerk's table, counts the House, and if forty members be present at four o'clock, the galleries are opened, and the business of each sitting is conducted according to the following routine:—From four till half-past is devoted to the consideration of private bills and the reception of public petitions; at half-past four notices of motions on future days are given, and a ballot taken to settle the precedence of those motions, and unopposed motions for returns are moved; this over, questions are asked of members of the Government respecting matters of a public nature, and then the regular business of the sitting is commenced, namely, the consideration of the orders or motions set down for that day.

TRADE BILLS. [See Bills.]

TREATING. [See Bribery.]

UNDER SECRETARIES OF STATE. Two of these are attached to the office of each Secretary of State, one being usually permanent, and the other dependent upon the administration in power.

UNDETERMINED ORDERS ON RESOLUTIONS. [See Forms of Procedure.]

UNDUE INFLUENCE. [See Bribery.]

UNION, THE. Denotes the act by which the two separate kingdoms of England and Scotland were incorporated into one under the title of the Kingdom of Great Britain. The first Parliament subsequent to the Union met Oct. 13rd, 1707. The Union of Great Britain and Ireland took place on January 1st 1801.

VACATING SEATS. By accepting an office of emolument from the Crown, a member at once vacates his seat. It is customary for a member who wishes to resign, to apply for the sinecure Stewardship of Her Majesty's Chiltern Hundreds; the Stewardship of the Manors of East Hendred, Northstead, or Hempolme; or for the Echeatorship of Munster.

WAR, THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR.

Has the general control and direction of the army, in which he is assisted by the Commander-in-Chief.

VOTERS. [See Borough Voters, and County Voters.]

VOTES AND PROCEEDINGS, THE. Are the entries printed and published daily of the transactions of the House made at the table by the clerks, from which the journals are compiled.

WAYS AND MEANS, COMMITTEE OF.

A Committee of the whole House, which regulates the issue of public money, to meet the grants voted in the Committee of Supply, and sanctions the imposition of the taxes necessary for the service of the current year. The votes of the Commons affecting the imposition of taxes, take immediate effect in anticipation of the statutes necessary to make those votes a law. The Lords have the power to reject any bill that passes through their House; but the exercise of this power as regards a bill touching taxation, is "justly regarded by this House with peculiar jealousy," as was resolved by the Commons, July 1860, after rejection of the Paper Duty Repeal Bill by the Lords in that year. [See Chairman of Committee on Ways and Means.]

WEDNESDAY SITTING. The House meets every Wednesday at twelve o'clock. Wednesday is set apart to the bills brought in by private members and, unless previously adjourned, continues to sit until six o'clock p.m., when the Speaker adjourns the House without putting any question, and the business under discussion, or undisposed of, stands among the orders of the day for the next sitting of the House.

WRITS. In the event of a vacancy arising from death, or from becoming a Peer, or other cause, after the prorogation and during the recess of Parliament, a writ is issued by warrant from the Speaker, made out to the Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, as soon as the Speaker is notified of the death, or peerage, by a certificate under the hands of two members, or if he receive a notice from a member that he has accepted a disqualifying office. During the session the Speaker issues his warrant by order of the House upon motion made and agreed to. In the case of a new Parliament the original issue of writs lies with the Crown. Writs returnable for a county are sent to the Sheriff of the county, and those that relate to cities or boroughs are sent direct to the Returning Officers. By the Act of William III., it was ordered that the writs of summons should be "delivered to the proper officer," but no channel was pointed out for their delivery. In 1813, however, it was provided that the messenger, or purveyor, of the Great Seal, or his deputy, after receiving the writs, should forthwith carry them to the General Post Office in London, and there deliver them to the Postmaster-General or his deputy, receiving an acknowledgment thereof in writing. The Postmaster-General, in his turn, is bound to despatch the writs by the first post; the Returning Officers are required, upon receiving them, to give an acknowledgment, setting forth the day and hour of delivery; and this memorandum is transmitted to the General Post Office in London, and filed there for reference. The London writs are delivered personally by the Messenger of the Great Seal.

CONSTITUTION OF THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

At the time of the union with Scotland, in 1707, the House consisted of 513 members; 45 were then added for Scotland, and in 1801, 100 were added for Ireland, making the total of 658. This number was preserved by the first Reform Act (1832), and also by the recent one (30 and 31 Vict. cap. 102), but in each case the apportionment was altered, and it now nominally stands—England and Wales 493 members, Scotland 60, and Ireland 105. But by the disfranchisement of Beverley (2), Bridgwater (2), Cashel (1), and Sligo (1), the actual present English representation is reduced by 4, and Ireland by 2.

By the Reform Act of 1867, 11 English boroughs were totally disfranchised, and 23 others lost 1 member each, but 25 seats were bestowed on new boroughs and universities, and 28 on counties, some receiving 1 additional member, and others being so subdivided that Yorkshire now returns 10 members, and Lancashire 8, whilst the majority of the rest have 4 or 6.

Taking the three kingdoms, there are now 368 members for boroughs and universities, and 283 for counties; but up to 1867 the numbers were—boroughs and universities, 402; counties, 256.

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

This wonderful remedy was discovered by Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE, and the word CHLORODYNE coined by him expressly to designate it. There never has been a remedy so vastly beneficial to suffering humanity, and it is a subject of deep concern to the public that they should not be imposed upon by having imitations pressed upon them on account of cheapness, and as being the same thing. Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, is a totally distinct thing from the spurious compounds called Chlorodyne, the use of which only ends in disappointment and failure.

Remedial Uses and Action.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE

effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases known as DIPHTHERIA, FEVER, CROUP, AGUE.

acts like a charm in DIARRHOEA, and is the only specific in CHOLERA and DYSENTERY, effectually cuts short all attacks of EPILEPSY, HYSTERIA, PALPITATION, and SPASMS.

is the only palliative in NEURALGIA, RHEUMATISM, GOUT, CANCER, TOOTHACHE, MENINGITIS.

The Right Hon. EARL RUSSELL has graciously favoured J. T. DAVENPORT with the following:—

"Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians that he received a despatch from Her Majesty's Consul at Manila, to the effect that Cholera had been raging fearfully, and that the ONLY remedy of any service was CHLORODYNE."—See Lancet, December 1st, 1864.

From Dr. R. J. HOULTON & Co., Horncastle.

"We have made pretty extensive use of Chlorodyne in our practice lately, and look upon it as an excellent direct Sedative and Anti-spasmodic. It seems to allay pain and irritation in whatever organ, and of whatever cause. It induces a feeling of comfort and quietude not obtainable by any other remedy, and it seems to possess this great advantage over all other Sedatives, that it leaves no unpleasant after-effects."

CAUTION.—The extraordinary medical reports of the efficacy of Chlorodyne render it of vital importance that the public should obtain the genuine, which bears the words, "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne."

Vice-Chancellor Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the whole story of the defendant, Freeman, was untrue.

Sold in Bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., and 4s. 6d., by all Chemists.

"Your invention is undoubtedly the best on a sudden emergency; it is probable my house here would have been burnt down, but for my possessing a couple of 'Fire Queens.' (Signed) "CHARLES BERESFORD"

Extract from a Letter received from His Grace the Duke of Beaufort.

To W. BRUCE DICK, Esq.

17TH FEBRUARY, 1879.

"As if by Magic the Extincteur 'Fire Queen' extinguished the fire instantly. There was a Cassiobury Fire Engine close by, we could not have used it, as we could not have stood up to work it nor have thrown the stream under the burning bed, as we did with the Extincteur. I want four more of your Extincteurs and necessary charges for Badminton House, and four for Troy House.

"I am going to write to my daughter, Lady Waterford, and my sister, Lady Londesborough, to tell them they must get some of the Extincteurs. Thanking you for having invented such a Valuable Engine. Yours faithfully, (Signed) BEAUFORT."

Eighteenth Annual Publication, Revised after Official Returns.

THE

STATESMAN'S YEAR BOOK for 1881—

A Statistical and Historical Annual of the States of the Civilized World. By FREDERICK MARTIN. Crown 8vo. 10s. 6d.

The Times :—"The Almanack de Gotha, in spite of its long reign as a favourite, shrinks into insignificance by the side of the handsome and useful volume which Mr. F. Martin has given us as a manual for our library table—a book which not only serves, so to speak, as 'the Peerage of Continental Royalty,' but gives us large stores of authentic information, corrected to the very latest date, respecting matters of such world-wide interest as the revenue and expenditure, the density of the population, the birth and death-rate, the premiers and heads of Government in the several civilized States of the four quarters of the world."

Standard :—"Everybody who knows this work is aware that it is a book that is indispensable to writers, financiers, politicians, statesmen, and all who are directly or indirectly interested in the political, social, industrial, commercial, and financial condition of their fellow creatures at home and abroad. All the information that could possibly be desired by politicians, merchants, and public speakers and writers relative to the Constitution and Government, the Church and education, the revenue and expenditure, the army and navy, the area and population, the commerce, industry, and trade of every civilized country in the world, is to be found readily accessible within the small limits of this admirable year book."

NEW EDITION.

Revised and brought down to the Peace of Versailles, Feb. 28, 1871, 8vo. half bound, price 18s.

ANNALS OF OUR TIME—A Diurnal of Events, Social and Political, Home and Foreign, from the Accession of Queen Victoria. By JOSEPH IRVING.

SUPPLEMENT from Feb. 1871, to March 1874. 8vo. 4s. 6d.

SUPPLEMENT from March 1874, to July 1878. 8vo. 4s. 6d.

The Times says :—"We have before us a trusty and ready guide to the events of the past thirty years, available either for the statesman, the politician, the public writer, and the general reader. . . . If Mr. Irving's object has been to bring before the reader all the most noteworthy occurrences since the beginning of Her Majesty's reign, he may justly claim the credit of having done so briefly, succinctly, and simply, and in a manner, too, as to furnish him with the details necessary in each case to comprehend the event of which he is in search in an intelligent manner."

The Daily News says :—"It appears to us to be admirably executed, full, yet condensed, clearly arranged, and provided with an ample index. Such a work will be a treasure to all journalists and politicians."

DENT'S CHRONOMETERS,

WATCHES, and CLOCKS have long held pre-eminent rank, as may be seen from Reports of various scientific persons :—

THE ASTRONOMER ROYAL, (Sir G. B. AIRY), in his Report to the Admiralty (13th of August, 1870) on the forty Chronometers entered for annual competition, says of M. F. DENT'S Chronometer—

"THIS IS THE FINEST CHRONOMETER WE HAVE EVER HAD ON TRIAL."

N.B.—The LATE ASTRONOMER ROYAL J. POND, Esq., reporting in 1839 on the celebrated public trial, by order of the Lords of the Admiralty, which lasted thirteen years, during which nearly 500 Chronometers were tested, says:

"Your Chronometer, No. 114, is entitled to the First Premium. Actual variation in the year 0.54 hundredths of a second. This is superior to any other yet tried."

THE RUSSIAN IMPERIAL ASTRONOMER, M. STRUVE, of St. Petersburg, reporting upon 81 Chronometers tested by the Russian Chronometrical Expedition, in 1843, says:

"The DENT CHRONOMETERS have held FIRST RANK in a brilliant manner. They contributed, beyond dispute, THE MOST EFFECTUALLY to the exactitude of the results."

"M. STRUVE."

. By Command of the Emperor, the Russian Gold Medal of the Highest Order of Merit was presented to Mr. DENT.

SIR WILLIAM ARMSTRONG, Inventor of the Armstrong Gun says :—

"9, HYDE PARK STREET, W., 14th November, 1861.

"The Chronometer Watch you made for me in December, 1859, has never been affected by travelling or riding; its variation at the end of a year was only 45 seconds. It has proved in every respect a most satisfactory Watch."

"W. G. ARMSTRONG."

"Mr. M. F. DENT,

33, Cockspur Street, Charing Cross."

The Report on Chronometers, Watches, &c., by the Judges at the Philadelphia Exhibition, 1876, can be had on application.
